Über mag

ENTROPIA UNIVERSE® EDITION

Introducing:
Estate Cribs

Know what to wear

Akoz in the ring!

New quiz!
Be a winner

Editorial by Nirfu

Welcome to the second issue of Über mag. The first issue has been downloaded over 800 times, so in my eyes it's a big success. I think it has a long way to go to get Über mag exactly as I like, but I think number two is a big step in the right direction. Some of the readers have expressed the joy of reading it, so it feels like it's filling a need. I can only hope that you, when you read this issue, will have the same feeling.

This time I have managed to put in more of the lifestyle material that I had planned from the beginning. I hope that you don't feel disappointed when it's not filled with user guides and other things you might find in a forum. If you are looking for user guides, go to http://nirfu.gluonsoft.se.

The puzzle in the last issue was a big success, I got a lot of answers and when I delivered the prizes I met lot of new people. I did choose eight winners and I now know that it was too many. This time it will only be three winners but I hope these three will be as happy as the winners in the first.

Since this is the second issue the format is just experimental and will most probably change in the future. Please let me know if you have other ideas for the content or if you have material you think would fit. Send to: ubermagred@gluonsoft.se

Last I would like to thank everyone that have helped me to finalise Über mag no 2.

Merry Christmas and a happy new year.

Most wanted items

The shopoholics dream is here! Mind Ark introduces malls. There are three malls, Port Atlantis, Twin Peaks and Emerald Lakes, Amathera. The Emerald Lakes mall is a bit different from the other two since it also includes a Land Area with hunting and mining taxes. Each mall has three floors filled with stores, 12 on each floor. The stores are divided into two different sizes, medium and large. Medium sized shops have a display window in front of the shop to draw customers inside. The larger shops have a display podium outside in the open space outside the shops.

On every floor there is a trading centre with auction, technician and all terminals needed apart from revival terminals. The fourth floor holds a three room penthouse apartment with the view of the surroundings. Outside the penthouse is a public balcony where we can get a sneak peak of the roof. On the roof there are two spaceship landing pads, it looks like they are not in operation yet, but according to MindArk they will be in the future. On the opposite end of the fourth floor is a teleporter, which gives you easy access to the stores on third floor.

The mall in Twin Peaks also adds something I think many players will find convenient. I am talking about the new revival terminals at the entrance, in Twin Peaks these will make it easier for the Argonaut hunters. Now when they get killed they don't have to run back as far as they did before. The new teleporter on the fourth floor and the new possibility to use TP chips indoors also gives the Argonaut hunter a faster way to their hunting grounds.

The placing of the malls is very good, close to the two main trading areas on Eudoria, Port Atlantis and Twin Peaks, it will bodes well for the future commerce. The third mall is placed on the Amathera continent and is not as easy to get to as the other two. Maybe we will see a division of trading items, Port Atlantis with lower priced items and the other two with the more expensive things, the future will tell.

Bidding for the malls will end on Dec 29th. The starting bid was 1 PED and no buyout, after only a few hours it had raised to over 30000 PED. We can only speculate what the ending price will be. Some believe that each mall will not surpass Club NeverDie's price of $100 000, but all together this will give Mind Ark some new money in the moneybag. The logical assumption is that the Emerald Lake mall will be the one that will end with the highest bid. The one who wins the bidding will get all the deeds for the 36 shops in the mall. So It may well be that the winner will be able to get all his money back when he sells the shop deeds. Then add a sales tax of 2.5% on that, a shopping mall might be a very profitable deal.

Travel - Underground

Under the Hjorten (deer in Swedish) building in New Oxford they have found tunnels. In these tunnels there are some small estates that look like they were brought straight from a Wild West movie. MA has also put a few shops down there. The really interesting part is when you enter these tunnels and reach the Thourkell's Tomb. There is a ladder on the left side going up; follow that path and go in to the right tunnel. Now you will end up in a bigger cave where the Boorum mutant mob has started to spawn. The spawning period is a bit strange, sometimes they are there, and some times they aren't. When people have tried to record the spawning times it looks like only four times per day. And then after a few days they weren't there at all. It's a very strange spawning indeed. Boorums come in male and female variations and loot mostly cobalt stone and in some rare cases also Assassin R150 (L) carbines and Boom ACC (L) weapon amp. Since it's a new mob it may loot other stuff, the future will tell.

This cave is placed in the south end of the lake at Limnidian district. It's not so exciting, just a big hollow boulder. It's a nice place to have visited though; sometimes some nice person drops a few items in there. Another place with cave associations is located near Twin Peaks, right between the city and the new mall. It's a big storage looking house with a collapsed mining opening in it. It would be perfect if MA could clear the mouth of the mine and open up a new web of cave tunnels in the mountains north of Twin, but this is just a humble wish. While we are in this building we have to use the opportunity to link to a complete other fun place at Eudoria. In this building a dead man is sitting in a chair; speaking of dead mans and skeletons I have to mention the dead sunbathing guy at the island in Lake Serene south of to Nymphtown. A perfect place to throw a beach party!

Introducing caves and cave living mobs is very intriguing and gets the fantasy going. Imagine if they find even more catacombs down there, filled with more cave lurking mobs like the Boorum. Before this cavern was found,we had to make do with the original one and only cave on Calypso, Ambrosian cave.

Akoz - in the cage

One of the more prominent avatars in the Entropia Universe is mr Modified Akoz Power, commonly known as Akoz. He is one of the pre-gold players; one of the lucky sods that started to play before we, the middle level players, had ever heard of this place. He is considered the most skilled hairstylist in the world of Calypso. Also for many new players who dared to enter the PvP3 zone, Akoz is considered to be their nemesis. For those of you who have entered a PvP ring you might have met a quick death at Akoz's hands, wielding th Unique Legend War Axe. Akoz is also one of the largest land owners in this world and holds many popular events on them.

When did you start to play?
I was first introduced to Entropia around the time it went "Gold". I was very skeptical when a friend first introduced it to me, but since no mandatory deposit was required I decided to give it a go to shut him up.

Why did you choose EU?
I have always enjoyed computer games. Up until I found EU I used to try most games my friends threw at me. EU was just another one in a long line.

Why do you still play?
Good question. For one I am doing pretty well at the moment and should hopefully be able to pay down my student loan when I'm done with my Master Degree. Second I have serious addiction problems. :-)

What is the best with EU?
That because of the RCE most people you meet are actually cool mature grown-up people. I have not found this in any other game.

What is the thing with EU you dislike the most?
I dislike the somewhat slow development rate. Since EU is a real cash economy I'm sure very special security measures are required when developing it, but the result is a slow development rate and several half-ready features like taming to name one.

What nationality do you have in real life?
I'm a 22 year-old student from Norway.

What society are you in? Rank?
Proud member of Shaolin. Colonel.

Have you always been a member of that or have you changed any time?
I have been member of Soldiers of Fortune, Coat Killers, Calypso Conquerors and Shaolin.

Have you changed your way of playing during the time you have played?
Oh yes! I have been working with pretty much all professions with the exception of tailoring and colouring. When I first started out there was no sweating or mentors, so I spent most of my time exploring and fetching oil (or attempting to!). When I later got the funds I spent a good share of time on hunting, mining and crafting but on the side I also spent a lot of time trading. That's probably what kept me going for so long.

Where do you live in game?
I consider myself to be mainly a crafter nowadays and therefore a lot of my time goes to trading with players and browsing the auction. My favourite place for that is at Wolverine.

How long did it take until you decided what profession to focus on?
I'm still in the process.

How much have you deposited so far?
I deposited a total of 50k peds two years ago or so. Last year I took the same amount back out, so what I have left ingame now is profit.

Are you able to withdraw now? Maybe you are one of the ATM card holders?
So far I have only withdrawn my initial deposit. I did recently order an ATM card though.

When did you get your LAs?
I have been buying and trading them over time since they first came out for sale.

Another one bites the dust!

© Nirfu 2006

Akoz's lands so far

Do you plan to get more LAs?
If price keeps going up on them I probably will not. I can't rule anything out though.

You have run several events in you land areas what is the next step?
I can't reveal such business secrets here.

Do you think your sponsored forum on Entropia Forum helps you promote your LAs or are you doing this just to be nice?
I don't think it makes much difference if my event threads are in a special forum or not, but it is nice to have it all in one place, and it helped keeping EF alive.

What is your involvement in PE-trade.net?
I developed pe-trade.net some years ago but haven't found time to maintain it. pe-auction seems to do an excellent job there though.

What do you think about all the tools/web pages being done regarding to EU?
I think it's great. Shows how talented many of the people playing EU are. I like the fact that EU doesn't give out a manual with all the facts and instead leave it up to the players to figure some things out.

Now when the amps have changed, will you do any changes to the Exo land north of New Oxford?
Probably not. People seem to be able to do the same with a breer as they used to with opalos.

Talking about changes, what do you think about the latest changes;
-No PED in loot?
-New items?
-Amp change?
-ESI change?

I like them all. The no PED in loot and the new items is something many people have suggested for quite some time now. Although the benefit isn't obvious yet I think once the different animal oils and residue gets more useful people will embrace it. The amp change hurt some people and will make it harder for newcomers to survive, but an amped breer will still have better economy than most medium sized rifles.

As I understand you are in the beauty business, why did you choose that profession?
I have been doing most professions, and I mostly started this one because nobody else did. In all other professions it seemed quite impossible to reach the top since there were people having 10k in most skills. In this one I reached #1 within a couple weeks of skilling and like all other places in the game where there's a monopoly there was good money. I also hoped and still hope that in the future we will see body modifications that will give you bonuses when you are in the field.

Isn't it a bit gay to be a hairstylist?
Some people think so, but why should that stop me from making money? I'm not the one doing styling. I merely provide the tools for the customers so they themselves can make themselves look better.

Who do you see as your main opponent in the beauty business?
Most serious actors in this business are very nice people which I prefer to call partners. I don't have time to do all customers alone anyway and somebody needs to do my hair as well. I believe the second most skilled stylist ingame is Pinky.

Where is your beauty shop located?
Genesis B tower.

What gear do you use in it?
Scalpel, needle, scissors and in some extreme cases I sometimes have to bring out the meat axe.

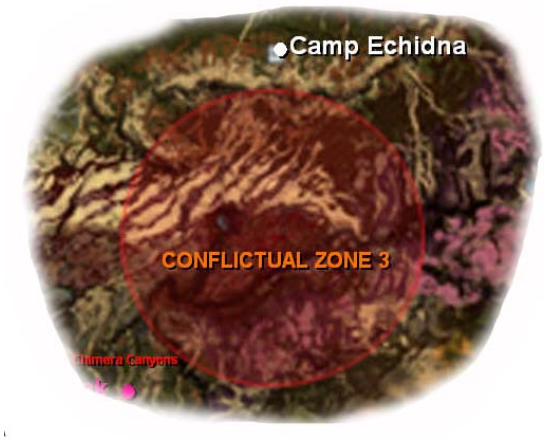

Is there any other profession you have tried but then dropped?
I don't really do mining anymore. Other than that I am still active in most professions.

© Nirfu 2006

What is your favourite mob?
I'm not picky. Orange juice, pixie rabbits, shadow boars and bunnies in general.. it all works.

What is your favourite place to hunt?
PvP3

To avoid Akoz, keep an eye on radar….

What is your favourite weapon?
My unique war axe

Unique Legend War Axe data:

Damage:	277 HP
Range:	8 m
Attacks:	24 /min
Reload:	2,5 sec

What is your favourite armour?
I try to avoid using armour whenever possible, but I have been trying to get hold of eon/vain/sentinel for land grab. My favourite armour in this game is sentinel.

What is your favourite item that you own in game?
I have to name two favourite items, it's either my mod FAP or my war axe. I don't think I would last long without either.

What do you think is MA's next step in the evolution of EU?
They told us the reason for the phys-X engine change was vehicles, so lets hope for that one

If you could whish one thing from MA, what should that be?
That they treat every player equally and with respect. That they don't give special avatars special conditions or inside info, and that they should to the extent possible increase the support section.

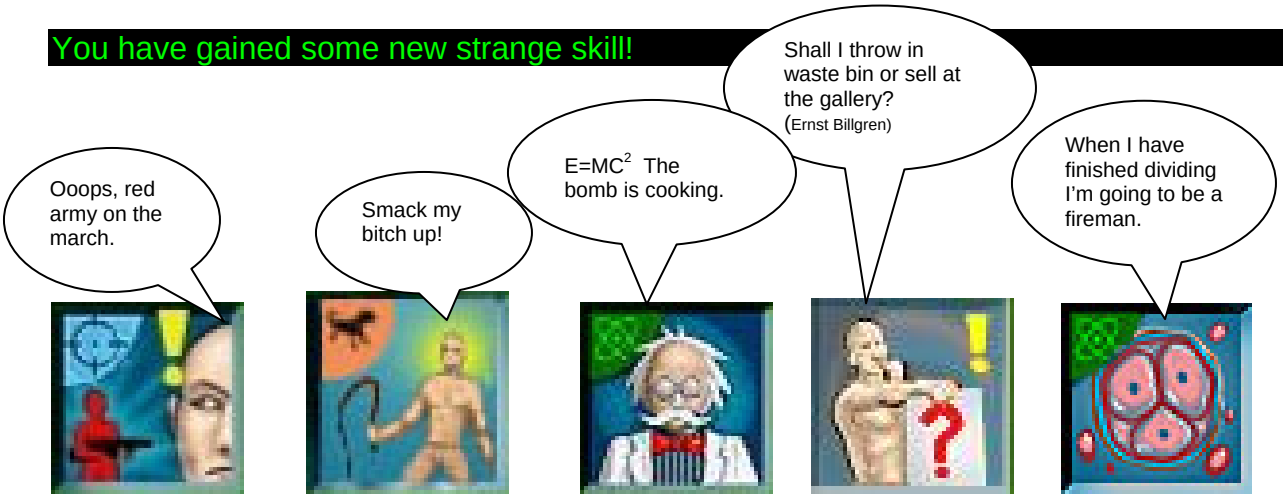

What is in your mind the most stupid thing MA has done?
Tough question... I think that must be dropping all high end/modified items in the pre-gold era.

What is in your mind the best thing MA has done?
Coming up with and having the guts to go through with the concept of Real Cash Economy.

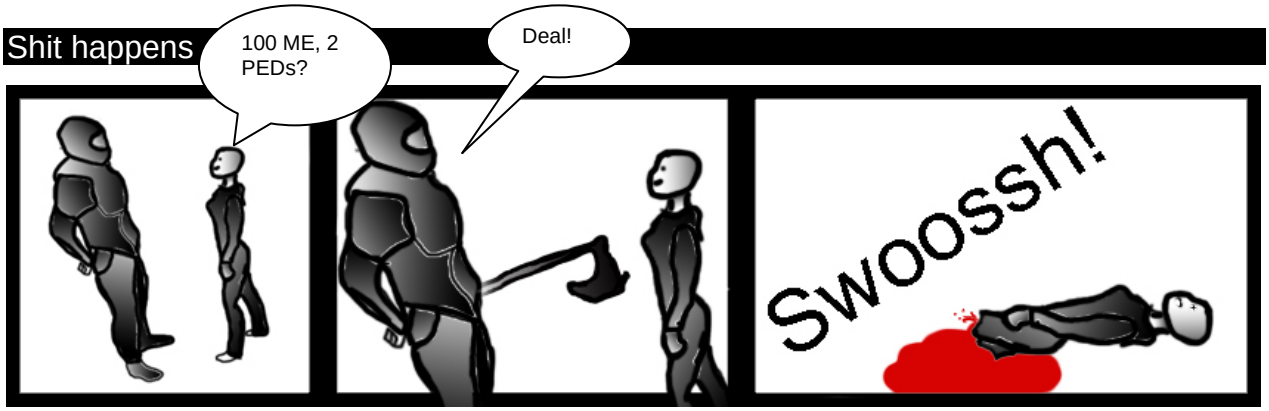

Is there any other thing we would know about you? Any dark secrets?
They wouldn't be secrets if I told you, would they?

Estate Cribs – Mr SIBUK, Amathera,Treasure Island North

I arranged a meeting with Mr SIBUK at his estate located north of Treasure Island North teleporter. We met at his porch and the first thing I ask about where his Christmas decorations. SIBUK tould me that the Christmas stuff is not normally there. He put the Christmas decorations up on the first weekend of December. – "It is silly to leave decorations up all year as it ruins the novelty!"

The house is unique (at the moment at least) and has three floors. Four rooms on the first floor, 2 rooms on the second floor and a small room on the top floor.

Everyone says the small room at the top is their favourite. He had a hard time recalling how much he paid for it, but gave me his best guess; about 5000 PED. The other houses in the neighbourhood are in the same style but they are not three floors high. There are some nice high spaceship looking houses a few hundred meters away, but they are not unique like SIBUK's

His favourite room is the back room where he has his ore stones collection. The collection is built of both raw and refined ores and enmatters. One of the two rooms upstairs is empty apart from lights because he kept hoping that MA would add some new cool furniture in the near future. When he tells that wish it sounds like he doesn't believe it would happen. – "I hate the crafted furniture. It is so ugly and grey and the choice of colours is horrible. No one wants furniture like that in their house IRL, so why would they want it in game?" When I ask how much he has spent on furniture he just gives me a pensive look and shrugs his shoulders telling me he don't know and says – "a lot!".

- "When I was planning the house it was very hard to make the rooms feel 'full' and 'cosy'. The rooms are massive. I remember one room downstairs that I wanted to make into a dining room so I bought a massive oak table and some chairs. When I put them in the room they just looked so silly in the middle of the room with this huge space around then and eventually I had to put three tables end to end and surround them by chairs and still the room feels a bit empty when you walk around it. Now it looks more like something you would see in a castle than someone's dining room. I tried to make each room look as nice as I could. No ugly skulls, I don't understand why people do that."

One item the caught my eye is placed over the fireplace at the first floor. - A small golden ring! SIBUK tells that this is one of his favourite items, a gold wedding ring, and he hasn't seen one anywhere else, so he believes it might be a unique item. To bad it's not possible to put it on his avatars finger. Maybe he is saving it for the future Mrs SIBUK?

I use most of the visiting time to look at all the art he has acquired; he tells me his favourite painting is the Desperate Hunt one. He like the Natures Eye painting too it is just one problem: - "it's a bit too small I wish it was bigger. I hope that MA will add more painting like these. I don't really like the New Oxford artwork"

He has furnished his home in a clean style and I think he deserves a lot of credit for his severe thinking when he decorated the house. There are no weapons or armour parts laying around. He keeps his things in order.

On my way out I asked to see his garage. He told me that the hangar is loaned out to a friend and that there is nothing special to see in there anyway, just a big bulky spaceship. That's the way of SIBUK, get the best there is and lend your hangar and spaceship to a friend. Whit this thought in my mind I leave SIBUK's house and wave goodbye to him.

–"Thanks for the look, SIBUK"

Vogue – Rexely mesh tanktop

You want to look cool? Then put on a tank-top is the perfect garment. On a hot summer day you use it together with a pair of shorts or a short skirt. Or if you're going out for a long walk in the cold areas round Zeus, wear it under your Brigadier coat. Before the tank-top started to spread to the fashion aware people, the bustier was the most common amongst female avatars, now they seem to have switched to the . We are grateful that more and more switch from the pig skin looking bustier to the awesome tank-top.

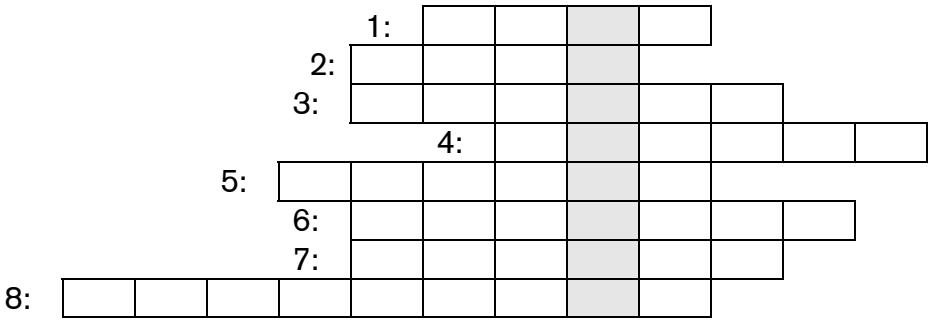

So what should you mix your tank-top with? Amongst male avatars the most common is to do some colour matching, put on a light blue tank-top together with your light blue speckled jeans. Or you could have a plain white tank-top together with your black holestripe pants. To get the uber cool appearances add a pair of shades. For female avatars there are as usual three ways to go, thong, skirt or pants. If you are a thong person you really need to do perfect colour matching. Bra, thong and tank in the same colour, only way you can get free from this rule is to have a white or black. If you are the skirt person you are freer to experiment with colours, why not put on a green tank-top together with your Seduce miniskirt, colour match the stripes and the tank-top and don't forget the Queen Stiletto boots. And finally the pants person; always have the tank-top in a lighter colour than the pants, in this way you will always look like a fashion pro. The Storm color jeans will give you that relaxed vintage look you're after. On top of it all put on a rancher hat.

So how do you get your hand on a fashionable tank-top then? Since it's a very rare level 4 blueprint it's not the easiest to find. Actually there is just one known blueprint and the owner is Killer Thriller Miller. He looted the blueprint in April. The tank-top is made out of simple materials like Wool cloth, Wool thread, Generic leather and the a bit more expensive Dunkel plastix. Mr Thriller doesn't have any shops so you have to look in the auction or buy from other players. If you look in the auction normally you find at least one or two tank-tops. Too bad they are normally light blue, but buy what ever colour you can get your hands on and then get in contact with a good colourer like Sarah and change the colour to fit your style. The price today is normally about 100 up to 170 PEDs. Well invested PEDs!
